Your team at RCN is committed to help you and your staff stay connected through this unprecedented time, and we understand that a key to reaching that goal is having a virtualized environment you can rely on. We have one. And we're offering it to you free through June.*

ConnectNow is a simple-to-use, video conferencing service that is as an add-on to your existing Hosted Voice account. It's already fully integrated with your phone system and offers an enriched suite of features, including:

- Video screen and audio sharing
- Conference recording
- Outlook and Gmail plug-in
- Breakout groups
- Attention tracking
- Polling

And there is no need for any phone hardware which makes implementation to your remote teams fast and easy. Contact us now and you'll receive ConnectNow free through June 30, 2020, with the capability to patch in up to 100 attendees per conference. At the end of this free trial, you can continue to use our robust service or cancel at any time, with no obligations to you.

Please feel free to reach out if I can be of assistance.
